NBA star, Dwyane Wade, left, jokes with President Obama's close friend Dr. Eric Whitaker while playing a basketball game for Urban Students Empowered at the East Bank Club in Chicago, Saturday, Aug. 14, 2010. Wade led a five-on-five game with four of President Obama's closet friends. The game was inspired by Obama's passion for basketball and auctioned off at a US Empowered gala, where the auction winner and teammates played against Team President.
